

IABR Breath Summit 2022 – Travel Bursaries for Young Researchers

Two key objectives of the International Association of Breath Research (IABR) are to foster scientific discourse in the field and to support the next generation of breath researchers. After a pandemic-enforced hiatus of more than two and half years, the IABR Breath Summit finally return this year as an in-person event, taking place in Pisa, Italy from 12-15 June 2022 (breathsummit2022.it/). To celebrate the return of the conference, and to encourage and support young researchers to attend, the IABR board and the Chair of the Breath Summit organizing committee are awarding travel bursaries and free attendance to ten fledgling IABR researchers.

Travel bursaries

The travel bursaries will amount to € 500 each, to support the cost of travel to the conference in Pisa, Italy. To complement each travel bursary, the conference attendance fee will be waived, granting the awardee free participation to the Breath Summit. Further, free accommodation will be offered to the awardee (in shared, student apartments).

Eligibility

To apply for a travel bursary, you must...

- be an IABR member in good standing (student or regular membership): if you would like to become a member, or have not yet renewed your membership for 2022, please visit our website: <http://www.iabr.at/become-a-member/> (if you require an invoice, please contact membership@iabr.at)
- be an early-stage researcher: undergraduate or postgraduate student, PhD student, or post-doctoral fellow with less than three years since being awarded a PhD)
- have submitted an abstract to give a talk at the Breath Summit: the oral presentation need not be confirmed at the time of applying for the bursary
- have registered for the conference: if your registration for the conference relies on a successful bursary application, please indicate this in your application

How to apply

To apply for a travel bursary, please provide a written application that outlines your recent research highlights and states the topic of your planned contribution to the conference. Please also add a statement on your research motivation, as well as why you are applying for the bursary. Please send your application to bursary@iabr.at
